A TRIBUTE.

(TO MRS. SALLIE W. HARRIS, ON HER THIRTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY.)

Another year's gone from thee,
And stamped its image on thy heart.
Gone, yes, gone and left the records
Of its thousand joys and cares,
On the wild and beaten way-paths
Of life's wide labyrinth.

Thou glorious stars
And lend their witchery to the night,
Are stayed to mark the will of God,
Yet time does not their lustre;
But thou—a creature of blight and change—
Dost show Time's dreary pencillings;
True—he has not marked thy polished brow,
With "hard and furrowed lines;"
Nor has his frosts turned into grey
The auburn locks that o'er thy temples fall;
Yet his unstayed foot has stamped
Some sorrow on thy heart.

Oh! pause,
Upon the threshold of thy mid-life's prime,
And look back upon the transient years.
There, twinkling behold the lovely springs
That flung their dowers at thy feet.
Methinks you paint the faded scene anew—
Where some wild cascade leaps down
The rocky steep of moss-crowned hill;
And where the wild flowers sweetly bloom,
While "neath the coral shades of play
The twilight zephyr with your many curls,
As down you wafted your lips to quest
The sparkling vapors at the forest fount.

Methinks
That you remember now some lovely flower
That bloomed in your own sweet garden
To teach you the lesson of decay.
A moment bright of beautiful birth,
And then it died to teach thee.
Thou art, like it, on earth a fading flower,
Yet the germ will spring to life anew
In bright and verdant Paradise,
And be a flower perennial—there,
Beneath the smile of God—fanned
By angelic plumes, "will float
In beauty o'er the Heavenly walks;
And they will be well blessed who live
Beneath the shadow of its snowy leaves.

Proceedings of a Meeting of the "UGLY CLUB."

At a meeting of the "Ugly Club," at Sandusky's Station, Marion county Ky., Feb. 14th, 1853;—on motion of L. G. Phillips, Samuel Vansichles was called to the chair as President, and James P. Barbour appointed Secretary. The following gentlemen were then chosen as Vice Presidents and supporters of the chair, viz: Allen Isaacs, Hugh Gorden, John Graham, Thomas Creager, Cornelius Thompson, and Yarrot McElroy. On motion of David Payne, a committee of seven were appointed by the chair to draft suitable resolutions for the occasion, viz: David Payne, Anthony Drane, Thomas Drane, D. Clarke, Julius A. Goode, Martin Bannister, and Frank Milburn. After the committee retired the Rev. Jno. Sandusky, being called upon for a speech responded nearly as follows:

He said he was proud to meet as he did on that occasion, so many gentlemen of mark, citizens it was true filling ostentatious positions in society. But citizens who would be the "observed of all observers" in whatever crowd they appeared. He was glad to be present and assist in the organization of such a club, and he was glad to observe that there was not a gentleman present who did not merit in an eminent degree, a position in it. He had for a great while anticipated the formation of such an association from the rapid advance of mankind in civilization and the Fine Arts. Up to this time beauty had been considered the thing—the main attraction—it was a mistake. Beauty was a pale and feeble thing, that had to be shaded from the sun—sheltered from the wind, powdered with starch, and perfumed with cologne water, and was of but very little use any way. It was true you could make very handsome pictures by it; but that was about all, and in fact in this could rough world of ours, it seemed often mightily out of place.

"Why, sir," said the Reverend speaker, "if I am going to war give me your rough ugly fellows that are fit to make soldiers of, and if in the melee a piece of an ear, or a nose is cut off they don't regard it, and look just as well without it as with it."

Again sir, suppose you were making up a funeral procession; how would you get along without some of us to make it look sad and sorrowful. I assure you sir a funeral is no funeral at all without us.

But he said he would pass to mightier considerations. He believed the ugly portion of mankind was destined was destined to rule the world. It was evident the powers of government were going into the hands of the people, and the people ruled by majorities, and the ugly portion of our race was largely in the majority. Consequently they were to constitute the grand

Tired and fatigued from a long day's ride, covered with the dust we had gathered on a dry sandy road, we called at Squire Hobbs' to wet our mouth, rest our bones and have a chat with the Squire. On our part, however, there was a disposition very soon to talk less and doze more. This Hobbs, a good natured, soul, perceived as by intuition, and soon left us to the soft influences of nature's "sweet restorer."

"Now, how long we slept we needn't tell, and our readers needn't know. It wasn't long, however, for the loud talking in the Squire's office, soon aroused us, and we listened to a conversation highly interesting to us. It seemed that Joacum, Gulic, Old Joe, a clever sober, close-listed neighbor of the Squire's, had called in to talk about the crops, and matters and things in general.

"Well, Squire," said Mr. Gulic, "do you know where a fellow can buy a right smart chance of a nigger boy these times?"

"Really, uncle Joe, I don't know at this time. There was a sale in town last week of some six or eight at one time."

"Yes; and I got a right likely negro boy, eighteen years old, for $450. My word for it, I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for him to-day."

"Just my luck. Why, I never heard a word of it. Who told you, Squire?"

"Oh you know I take the paper. I saw the sale advertised, and as I had to go to town any way, I went on the day of sale thinking, perhaps, I might hit a bargain, and I did hit a bargain, sure."

"Well, I swear, I have got to have a hand somehow. You see, I have put in more than I have hands to work. Who's got a hand to hire any where about?"

"You're too hard for me again, uncle Joe, the hiring season is over. About a month ago all the negroes belonging to the estate of H—, deceased, were let at auction; and I'm told they went very low."

"The d—! You don't say. Why didn't you tell me Squire?"

"I hardly know why. I saw it in our paper, and I supposed everybody took that. Mor'n that, I didn't know you wanted to hire. Did you know I have sold my Harden tract of land?"

"No, indeed. Who to?"

"Why, to a rich old fellow from Alabama. It was day before yesterday; and I got the yellow boys cash up—only six dollars per acre. He said he came across our paper in 'Alabama.' He liked the description of the country; saw my wee bit of an advertisement, and came to see about it. We struck a trade in no time."

"Jerusalem. And here I been trying to sell a tract of land for the last two years, and couldn't get a dollar and a half an acre. It's better land than yourn too, and you know it Squire. Well, what is 'tis can't be 'tiser; but I reckon, Squire, I've beat you on sugar. I bought, last week, two barrels of sugar at six cents, when every body else had to give seven cents. Beat that, eh?"

"With all ease, uncle Joe—I bought mine at five cents."

"No sir—I don't believe it. Now say where?"

"At the house of W— & Co. I got a rare bargain. You see they advertised in the paper that they was selling off at cost. I knew groceries would go quick so I went in and brought a year's supply. Their groceries were all sold before night. I didn't pay the money either, for they took my United States Land Warrant at $1.50 per acre."

"Now, Squire! that can't be, for my lawyer told me that wasn't legal to sell my land warrant."

"Very true, sometime ago; but the news came lately in the paper that Congress had made them assignable."

"Well 'tisn't fair it's rascality! What right has these editors to get all the news and keep it to themselves?"

"Ah! uncle Joe, you misunderstand it. Editors and printers labor night and day to gather the news and give it to the people—to instruct their readers—to inform them of all the improvements of the age, and ameliorate the condition of society. Their papers goes abroad, recommending our people and country to interested and intelligent emigrants. Can they labor thus for nothing? Should they not be paid? Is there a man who is not benefited by a paper? Is not every subscriber repaid four-fold for the pittance of $2, his subscription price?"

"Stop, Squire! stop right there? I am going to take the paper. I'll take six, and send some back to my kinfolks in Georgia."

"You needn't go so far as thar—here's the editor right in the room."

Here the parties rushed in upon us, where we were acting most admirably a person fast asleep. It is enough for us to say, that after an introduction, the name Joacum Gulic was entered upon our note book as a subscriber—paid in advance. And now when the parties alluded to shall read this, we hope they will pardon us for giving to the public the substantial fact urged by the Squire—aiding us so effectually in 'Getting a Subscriber.'

THE REGENERATED POTATO.—A few days ago we published an article announcing the discovery of the cure for the disease in the potato called the rot. Since then we have seen some of the potatoes which are the product of the cultivation under the remedy there alluded to. These potatoes were sent by the discoverer, Mr. E. C. Roberts Michigan, to William Congden, Esq., his agent, now in this city. We never saw a finer or better lot of potatoes. The first glance at them, as they were taken from the box, was sufficient to satisfy us of the superior quality of the article, however they may have been raised. They were said to have been only an average lot, as they were taken from the ground—all of convenient size for cooking, with some large ones of mammoth growth, evincing the great yield that might be expected from the process of regeneration. We had some of them cooked, and found them as superior in flavor as they are in appearance—having that floury quality which the hardy, healthy potato only has.

The discoverer of this valuable remedy is now a resident of Michigan, an humble quiet, unambitious farmer and village school master. He cultivates a forty-acre farm in summer, keeping school in winter in a small school house on his own ground. For seven years he has been looking into this subject—and has finally arrived at the natural and conclusive results of the cause of the potato disease, and has been able, therefore, to give the only true remedy. Those to whom the secret has been imparted, are at once convinced of its reality—so rational and harmonious is it with the nature of things.

The discovery is as valuable, probably, to the human family as the invention of the cotton gin, the spinning jenny, or the caloric engine of the present day, although we hardly think it will be generally so realized. The discoverer should receive a testimonial from his fellow citizens worthy of his discovery. Inventors are not generally remembered or rewarded, though the people's therefrom are invaluable. The discoverer of the cure of the potato rot cannot get a patent as for a valuable machine, nor will the large rewards afforded States fall to this gentleman, as they were confined to their own citizens. It is the purpose of his friends to secure ample remuneration to him, by selling out the secret of the cure to the farmer for a small compensation. The first year's product will more than compensate the purchaser for the trifling outlay.—Chicago Daily Times.

DOWN WITH THE POLKA.—Says the Home Journal, we expressed the hope, a few weeks since, that the silly schottische and insipid polka were going out of fashion. We are glad to perceive that Mrs. Webster, in her treatise upon the art of dancing, (published lately in London, by Begue) has a dislike to these dances equal to our own. "That these dances," she observes, "have caused dancing to be deprecated is too true, but it has been dancing in its most abused form, for that it can be abused, like any other most innocent or necessary art, I, of course, readily admit. And I would ask those who do so abuse it, what enjoyment there can be in rushing up and down a room, to the danger of yourself and all you meet with? What enjoyment can there be in being tightly clasped in a gentleman's arms, the lady's chin projected over his shoulder? What pleasure in being pushed backwards and swung round till a palpitating heart and a fevered frame compel you to sink exhausted to your seat? This is one of the abuses of dancing; another is its being so often carried on in over-crowded and over-heated rooms, to the manifest danger of serious and even fatal consequences. The dancing I advocate is the impropriate quadrille of the family circle, or on the green sward at the social fete champetre."

Precisely. In another part of her little work, Mrs. Webster says:—"If it is objected that dancing leads to frivolity and dissipation, I would reply that being in itself a natural innocent and commendable amusement, it must not be censured because it is abused. What is there not open to abuse? What things are there not abused? Do the most serious escape? Where is that temple wherein vile things sometimes intrude not?—Shall we leave off walking, talking, eating, drinking, or meeting our fellow creature at all, because evil sometimes results from such acts? I would humbly suggest another method: let our pastors and teachers not emulate the hermits of old, and seclude themselves from the world, but let them watch over their flocks even in their amusements; their very presence will serve to scare away the evils which cause such amusements to be deprecated. Let not the parable of the prodigal son be forgotten, where dancing is spoken of as one of the means used to celebrate the return of the wanderer to his father's hearth."

This passage reminds us of a curious custom which still prevails in some parts of the country. The custom, namely, of inviting the clergyman to a party, and putting off the dance until he has taken his departure out of respect to his profession! It is a most absurd, and even demoralizing custom, which is honored only in the breach.

SCARCELY CREDIBLE BUT TRUE.—Although silent for the last few weeks on the subject of the many astounding cures wrought by Dr. Turnbull, we have notwithstanding, been gratified and disinterested observer.

One that has recently come under our inspection, we deem worthy of a lengthy notice, as it is among the most remarkable and satisfactory of any that has been exhibited to us.

The case is that of Susan Bell, daughter of Wm. W. Bell, of Mansfield, Desoto parish, La., whom her parents have considered perfectly deaf since she was eighteen months old, and has never spoken till now. After four or five operations on the ear, she heard distinctly, and spoke with rapid and distinct utterance. She utters sentences of several words in length, and with a voice perfectly natural and pleasing.

We saw her for the first time yesterday, and remained with her more than two hours. As the more convincing proof of the child's hearing being perfect, she could pronounce any word (French or Latin as well as English) distinctly, when uttered in an ordinary tone of voice, several yards distant with a bandage before her eyes.

This precludes the most skeptical from conceiving that her eyes had anything to do with her speech, and in our opinion settles at once all disputes in regard to the deaf and dumb restoration.

Such was the evidence of her extraordinary imitative powers, that we suggested that she should sing, which she did—following the words and tones of a lady with remarkable correctness.

When she gushed forth 'praise to God, immortal praise,' every eye among the assembled crowd in Dr. Turnbull's room, filled with tears, and every heart beat with rapture at thus seeing what an inestimable benefit science and skill can confer on suffering humanity.

She is seven years old, and was sent by her parents to Dr. T., with whom she had been but a week. Her progress is much more rapid and voice more natural than that of Huldah Way.

Who can conceive or explain the tumultuous emotions that must agitate the hearts of her parents when she is restored to them in full possession of those faculties which heretofore she has been deprived of.—N. O. Delta.

The Editor of the Plough Boy turned Critic.

The editor of the Harrodsburg Plough Boy has been giving us and our correspondent "Peasant" "boots." The editor of that delectable sheet is decidedly coming "out of the kinks;" we would not wonder if he should undertake to write a primer one of these days. Friend Gibbons designates our correspondent "hifoluting," here is an extract from the column of nonsense which he dedicates to the mare's nest which he thinks he has discovered in our sheet:

Occasionally, however, a literary meteor of unusual brilliancy flits athwart the horizon of a country village, and wakes up the natives for a short season, but soon shrinks from further contact with a world too commonplace to appreciate beauties of so exalted a character. Its coruscations of genius are too elevated, of course, to be understood by the vulgar masses.

If this is not a specimen of bombast, pedantic, precision, we do not know where to search for it; and think that the aforesaid editor can keep the worn-out, brimless hat which he so generously offers to Persant, for he richly deserves it.

The aforesaid editor says: "If anybody can tell us what it all means, he will greatly oblige us, individually, and confer a favor of considerable magnitude upon the members of the Shawnee Run Debating Society." Now, friend Gibbons, you are asking too much of us. For the job were endless to explain everything that appears in print which is above your caliber. We would advise you to go to school and commence on such poems as "Little Jack Orner," and such like productions, and gradually work your way up; and, perhaps, by dint of much perseverance and industry, you can in a few years appreciate the writings of Peasant, and also enlighten the benighted minds of the members of the Shawnee Run Debating Society, in which you occupy the high office of Moderator.

On Monday last we strolled out of town with gun on shoulder and pouch by side, determined to become for the nonce a votary of the agile Dianna. We purposed not to follow the terrific bear to his lair, as some of our friends before us have done, nor chase the bounding deer; but fully intended to make the smaller fry, such as tom-tits, meadow larks, &c. suffer.

We took a silent stroll on this fell purpose, of an hour or so having shot nothing. We were returning home, and as we came along we saw a luckless snipe which we shot; upon proceeding to reload our piece, the powder ignited in our flask, and astonished us by some sudden and unlooked-for fire works, "not laid down on the bills," which has taken away from us the use of our right hand for the present, and will account for any lack, or lateness of our issues for a week or two. We consider this left hand apology which we have written with our left-hand, will satisfy our readers.

Concert, Blind Vocalists.

In another column will be seen the advertisement of this celebrated Band of Vocal and instrumental performers. It will be remembered that they gave an entertainment here a month or so ago. All those who were in attendance were delighted; and it needs but the simple announcement of their second concert to insure them an overflowing house.

Old winter seems loath to leave us; the weather for the past few days has been rather chilly, in fact ice was formed on the water night before last of considerable thickness. We are truly in hopes that he will not serve us a severely trick now, as he has let us off so easily during the time of his legitimate reign.

Our readers are particularly directed to the card of Mrs. COLLINS in another column. Mrs. C. will sojourn in our place for a few weeks, and will be happy to attend to all who give her a call. We have examined some of her specimens and hesitate not in saying that they are equal if they do not excel any Daguerrotypes we have ever seen. We recommend her to all our readers who wish good pictures.

We are indebted to some unknown friend for a Catalogue of officers and students in the Law Department of the University of Louisville.

Col. Geo. Newcomb, an old pioneer of Ohio, died at Dayton last week.

We see by the Bowling Green (Ky.) Standard, that a meeting of the commissioners of Lexington, Harrodsburg and Bowling Green Railroad charter will meet in Lebanon on Saturday the 2nd of April. Wonder why we did not get an advertisement?

We are indebted to Hon. J. R. Underwood for a bound copy of the President's Message and accompanying documents. He will please accept our grateful acknowledgements for the favor.

DESERTED.—Three soldiers of the U. S. Army deserted from the Newport barracks last week. They had been paid for their services up to Tuesday last, and made themselves scarce a day or two after. No traces of them have since been discovered.

LIQUOR LICENSE.—The Paris Citizen says that Judge Samuels refused last Monday, to grant liquor license to tavern keepers. He also suggested that a poll be opened at the May election, to take the vote of the people in the county (Bourbon) on the question of "license or no license."

LUCUS NATURA.—A negro woman in Bowling Green Ky., was delivered a few days since of a pair of twins, one of whom was perfectly white and the other a pure African.

TERRIBLE AND DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO.—We learn from the Clarksville, Tenn., Jeffersonian, of the 5th inst., that a very destructive tornado swept over the upper part of that county on Tuesday last, doing immense damage to property and timber. The Jeffersonian says:

"It crossed the Cumberland River, between Davis' Riffle and the mouth of Brush Creek, some fifteen miles from this place. The residence of John B. Taylor was entirely torn to pieces and scattered in every direction. No one was injured except Mr. Taylor's mother, and she but slightly. Every one of Mr. Taylor's stables and out buildings were destroyed. The track of the tornado was some half a mile in width, and trees, houses, barns, and everything were levelled with the ground. The greatest loss, however, is in the timber land—every tree of any considerable size being ruined. How long or how far the tornado continued this destructive work we have yet to learn, but we presume from its violence that it exhausted itself in a few miles.

WRECK OF THE QUEEN VICTORY STEAMER.—FIFTY LIVES LOST.—An appalling accident happened in Dublin bay, on the 15th ult. The Queen Victoria one of the steamers belonging to the City of Dublin Steamship Company, from Liverpool to Dublin struck at Howth in a fog and went down. The screams of the afflicted passengers and crew were heard by the parties on board the Roscommon steamer, which had just left Kingstown harbor for Holyhead. The captain hove to immediately, and by great exertion succeeded in picking up between forty and fifty persons who were struggling in the water—some of them clinging to portions of the wreck and others holding on to the masts and rigging of the ill-fated vessel. The remainder, according to some accounts more than one hundred, and certainly not less than 80, were lost. Among the missing persons is the commander of the vessel, Capt. West, who has been on the station upwards of twenty years, and who was universally respected. The accident appears to have occurred through the fog which prevailed along the coast when the vessel struck. The shoal upon which she ran is known as the Bayley Rocks, in the immediate vicinity of the Howth light house. Immediately after completing his humane efforts, the captain of the Roscommon returned to Kingstown with the rescued sufferers, whose woe-begone and heart-broken appearance excited universal commiseration. The scene presented to the passengers by the express boats was of a truly heart-rending nature. In every direction as far as the eye could reach, portions of the wreck, trunks, boxes, barrels, baskets, and all other descriptions of luggage belonging to the passengers, were seen floating on the water. The greatest excitement prevailed on the subject of the wreck.

DESTRUCTIVE HAIL STORM.—We noticed a few days since, a destructive tornado, which occurred near Clarksville, Tenn., on the 27th ult.—The Bolivar, Tenn., Democrat, of the 2d inst., speaking of the storm says:

"Trees, fences and chimneys were falling all around us, while goods boxes and barrels were flying in every direction. The roofs of houses were taken entirely off, while several out houses were blown from their foundations. The destruction and damage was great and unprecedented. The lumps of hail would average size of a hen's egg, while many were much larger.

EXTENSIVE AUCTION SALES.—Last county Court day was, as we predicted, a great day of sales in our place. We have the reports of only four of the nine auctioneers, who were busily engaged during the day. The aggregate amount of sales by four auctioneers, was $94,276 91.—The report shows the sale of 938 mules at $69,213. Number of cattle reported is 649. Col. Delph, of Fayette, (from whom we could not obtain a report,) sold about 100 head in three lots. The aggregate amount of sales exceeded one hundred thousand dollars.—Paris Cit. 11th.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 11.

Executive Session of Senate.—But few movements were made to-day.

About a dozen nominations have been sent in and referred; none definitely acted upon; they are, therefore, strictly confidential.

It is presumed that Mr. Kennedy, Superintendent of the Census, will be retained in office, as the business is drawing to a close.

There are innumerable applicants from every quarter for appointments under Postoffice Department.

Senate.—The Debate between Clayton and Douglas is quite protracted. Mr. Douglas condemned the treaty, saying that, though the time had not arrived for annexing any part of either Mexico or Central America, yet the latter is the half way house on the high road to California, and the man who thinks that the time will arrive when the United States will find it necessary to own the half-way house must not be set down as a madman. He said he was not disposed to hasten the views of the Democratic principles under a Democratic administration.

No man can limit the future progress of this nation—this great republic. It will grow, and, in growing, it will burst them asunder. Why then attempt to do it by binding the nation not to do that which we know in time, it will be compelled to do? Why bind ourselves to annex no more of Mexico, when every man knows that the day is fast approaching when we cannot prevent it?

Mr. Mason got the floor, and the Senate adjourned till Monday.

The Board of visitors to the Military Academy appointed by the President are: David Gordonson, of Maine; Wm. G. Bates, of Massachusetts; C. W. Andrews, of Connecticut; H. E. Davis, of N. Y.; Francis Henson, of Penn.; J. C. Groom, of Md.; Kenneth Raine, of N. C.; A. V. Bromley, of Ga.; D. Jarvis, of O.; Johnson Barker, of La.; H. Fulwiler, of Ala.; Jas. Purviance, of Miss.; G. T. Horrid Murder.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.

A horrible murder was committed at South during last night.—Two married women, sisters, Hannah Shaw and Ellen Lynch, were found dead in a house this morning. A trunk containing $180, belonging to Mrs. Lynch, whose husband has gone to New York, was broken open and the money stolen.—The persons who occupied the lower part of the house had been to a ball and returned in the morning and found the women dead. There is great excitement, and a number of arrests have been made—inquest not yet finished.

On examining the bodies of the murdered women, 41 stabs were found in Mrs. Lynch, five entering the heart, and 17 wounds in Mrs. Shaw. An attempt was made to burn the house, but the fire, after burning a hole in the kitchen floor, went out. Among the arrested is an old Sing Sing convict, named Arthur Spring.

A Rising of the People.

Against the most corrupt city government that has ever been known in the United States, took place in New York on Saturday last, and produced the greatest meeting ever held in Metropolitan Hall on Saturday night. The papers are full of the proceedings of this meeting, and of the subject which brought it together. The Courier and Enquirer says that, at last, the doom of the Aldermen is fixed. "Stubborn and shameless as is the misgovernment of the city, it cannot stand such a demonstration" as that which has just been made against it.

"As well (continues the Courier) might it attempt to face down the sovereign majesty of the people. Never in this city was there a more imposing or more potent expression of public opinion. The vast throng represented every element of our greatness. Merchants, mechanics, professional men, people of all callings and all stations in life were there; and every heart was filled with common indignation, every mind set on the same purpose."

"The resolutions adopted at the meeting embrace a system of reform comprehensive and effective. The recommendation that the legislative, judicial and executive departments of the city government should be made independent of each other in all respects—that the legislative department should consist of two branches with different constituencies and different terms of office—that the Mayor's vote should be overruled only by a vote of two-thirds of the Common Council—that no expenditure of public money should be allowed, not first authorized by specific law—that officers of the city government should be indictable in courts of law for bribery, corruption or malfeasance in office—that the city elections should be held at a time different from other elections—and that primary meetings should be dispensed with, and choice made by the people direct from voluntary nominees."

EXTRAORDINARY EXPENSE.—This morning's edition of the Courier and Enquirer contains one million two hundred and forty-nine thousand seven hundred and sixteen ems of Minion, Nonpareil, Agate, and Pearl type. The expense of setting that quantity of type at the price we pay—thirty two cents per thousand ems—is three hundred and ninety-nine dollars and ninety-nine cents. This calculation does not include the extra extra expense on some thirteen columns of "rule and figure" work, which is paid for at the rate of sixty-four cents per thousand ems.—N. Y. Cour. Enq. 5th.

Kossuth.

The Hungarian enthusiast has denied over his proper signature, the paternity of the recent Proclamation bearing his name which was said to have been sent to the Hungarian soldiers in Italy previous to the ridiculous outbreak at Milan. But he accompanies the denial with a real proclamation of his, which is, if possible more absurd than the one that was attributed to him. In this he tells his countrymen, and warns the despots of all Europe, of what he is going to do, one of these days. But they will take especial care, now that the short-sighted mortal has given notice of his intentions, that he shall do nothing of the sort.—Exchange.

OUTRAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—The La Grange, Mo., Missourian of the 3d relates an outrage committed at Chambersburg, Mo., Feb. 13th, at a quarterly meeting of the Methodist church. A man named Trabue entered and laid hands upon the Rev. C. H. Kelley, saying "you are my prisoner, cross your hands," when Dennis the presiding elder, took Trabue by the arm asking "what he meant by such conduct in the house of God?" At this Trabue ordered his assistant to "tie this man," (meaning Kelley,) and cried out, "I'm the Marshal of the State of Missouri;" at the same time presenting one of Colt's revolvers with the trigger sprung, he threatened he threatened to shoot any one who raised a hand to interfere, say saying that the prisoner was a base rascal, imposing himself upon the community.

He was taken out of the house, placed upon a horse and secured by a chain passed under the horse and fastened on each foot with a heavy padlock. Mr. Dennis followed on foot, and learned that Kelley was charged with being one of the convicts who escaped from the Iowa Penitentiary on the 23d of last December. The pretended Marshal and his assistants proceeded as rapidly as possible to Fort Madison, Iowa, where penitentiary is located, and presented their victim to the keeper. He at once declared that he was not the man sought for—one Charles H. Kelly, who had escaped from the penitentiary—and that he bore no resemblance to him. He was of course discharged. Low. Courier.

INFLUENCE OF THE PRESS.—The Hon. Robt. Winthrop, in a late eloquent address to the Alumni of Amherst College, spoke as follows of Press:

Who can calculate the pernicious effect on the community of a single corrupt, licentious newspaper, coming slanders like a mint, changing phases like the moon 'with three hundred and sixty-five opinions in a year,' upon every subject which it treats, spicing its nightly portions with every variety of obscene and sensual stimulant controlled by no sense of responsibility, finding its easy way to the knowledge and perusal of the young, the ignorant and inexperienced, and ministering and pandering to their diseased taste and depraved appetites!

And who can calculate, on the other hand, the influence which might be produced—nay, let me say, which is produced—for I have in my mind, I thank heaven, more than one example—by such an engine in the hands of upright, intelligent, independent and conscientious men expounding and advocating neither ultraisms nor criticisms, neither a wild fanaticism nor a bigotted conservatism, with the fear of God before their eyes, with the love of truth in their hearts, and by whom the advancement of knowledge, of morality, of virtue, of righteousness; is not held subservient to the popularity of the hour, or to the state of the subscription list.

SELF-ADJUSTING RAILROAD SWITCH.—The Buffalo, (N. Y.) Republic, speaking of an improvement for railroad switches whereby accidents which annually occur involving great loss of life by the mismanagement of switches, can be avoided, says:

Mr. James M. Dick, of this city, has invented a switch which is under the control of a lever, in passing, which will instantly, by means of the spring, adjust the rails in their right line. This invention is simple and excellent. The New York City Line has resolved on giving it a trial, and one of these self adjusting switches is to be set down at the depot near Louisiana street, early in the present week, when we shall call attention more particularly to an invention which is undoubtedly very important to the whole community.

THE LAST TUNNEL.—We are informed by Mr. Southgate, one of the Engineers on our railroad, that day light was put through the tunnel at section 15, in the lower part of this county, for the first time, on Tuesday last, and that the workmen are busily engaged in reducing it to a proper grade for the reception of the rails.—This is the last tunnel on the line of road from Covington to Lexington, and as the grading from this to Covington is being rapidly brought to a completion, we may confidently expect that in a very short time we may see workmen engaged in our immediate vicinity in laying down the rails, and then, following in their wake the snorting of the iron horse. Well, let it come, we are prepared to give it a hearty reception, and are still willing to shout, "Hurrah for the railroad!" Cynthiana (Ky.) News, 8th.

Affray in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, March 6.—Ben. McCulloch, the noted Texan Ranger, had an encounter at Brown's dinner table, to-day, with West, a lawyer from New Mexico. West had insulted McCulloch, and finally threw a glass of water in his face, whereupon the latter knocked West down with a tumbler, broke a pile of dinner plates over his head, and beat him with a chair until he was seriously though not dangerously injured.

A RIGID LAW.—The recent act of Congress to prevent frauds upon the Treasury of the United States contains some very provisions. It requires all powers of attorney to receive money to be executed after the claim is allowed, and to be acknowledged in the presence of the witnesses.

It prohibits all officers from acting as attorneys for claimants, under the penalty of fine and imprisonment.

It inflicts a heavy penalty upon any person destroying a paper or record filed with a clerk or other officer of a court.

It inflicts a heavy penalty upon any person who shall promise or offer any gift or bribe to a member of Congress or to any other government officer to influence his vote or action upon any pending question.

It prohibits, under a heavy penalty of fine and imprisonment, any member of Congress from acting as agent or attorney for any claimant, for compensation paid or to be paid.

This is an excellent provision, if enforced, for members have sufficient influence from their position, without having superadded the stimulus of interest. It is no uncommon thing to find them brow beating the Executive officers.

Richmond Repub.

Supreme Court of the U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—On motion of Mr. Attorney General Crittenden, E. A. Graves, Esq., was admitted an Attorney and counsellor of the Court.

THE MOBILE POST OFFICE CASE.—Judge Goyle yesterday rendered his decision in the points raised by the counsel of Sands, under the writ of habeas corpus noticed in our last issue, sustaining the views of the defendant's counsel and directing the discharge of the accused. The gist of the decision was, that under the acts of Congress, the principal Government officers only are liable in such charges, the subordinates not being recognized by the act. Mr. Sands was therefore discharged.—Mobile Advertiser 27th ult.

NECESSITY.—There is a young Irishman in this city who came from the Emerald Isle a year or two ago, and landed here without a cent. He walked up Main street and sought employment in every store from the Louisville Hotel and the Galt House, but without success. He went back in despair to the boat on which he had come, determined on self-destruction, and was on the wheel-house, when the thoughts of his home and friends, far away, prevented him and induced him to try again. He returned to the store where he had received slight encouragement, and succeeded in procuring employment, which saved him from starving. He is now one of the head clerks of a commercial house on Main street.—Low. Cou.

INVENTION BY A CITIZEN OF ST. LOUIS.—Norman Cutter, Esq., and a Machinist from this city, are now in New York perfecting the the model for an engine upon the Ericsson principle. It is said to be much simpler and cheaper than the Ericsson engine and will be much better adapted to the running of steamboats and locomotive cars. It will occupy less space and will consume much less fuel.—St. Louis News.

SEVERE CUTTING.—On Saturday night at 11 o'clock, in Dryades street, William Gilmore was arrested by officer Colahan, on the charge of having very severely and dangerously wounded and cut Benjamin Beechby, with a bowie knife, in the shoulder. Beechby was sent to the Charity Hospital, but his recovery is considered very doubtful. No examination into the circumstances of the case has yet taken place.—N. O. Pic. Feb. 28th.

IMPORTING CATTLE.—The Northern Kentucky Cattle Importing Association limited the amount of subscriptions to 25,000. The sum was subscribed early on Monday morning last, and some thousand of dollars were refused during the day. Paris Citizen, 11th.

On Saturday last a mulatto boy named Felix, belonging to Dr. Hickman, while hunting in the woods accidentally shot himself in the side and died immediately. Bardstown Herald.

LEXINGTON, KY.—ITS POPULATION AND PROPERTY.—By the annual assessment, the real and personal property of Lexington, Ky., is computed at $4,585,285, of which amount $4,039,385 is taxable; showing an increase over last year of $240,441. The population of the city is: white males 2,754, white females 2,755, colored males 1,263, colored females 1,574; making a total of 8,351, showing a small increase over last year.

Hon. J. J. Ward, Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina, died on Sunday last.

About five hundred hands are said to be at work on the Railroad, from Hamilton to Connorsville, Ind.

The steamship Sierra Nevada, arrived at Panama on the 14th ult., in 50 days from New York, being four days quicker than any trip ever before made.

Two dry goods houses in Providence, R. I., suspended last week, one of them insolvent for $40,000.

La Grave starts for California in a few weeks with a drove of 500 head of cattle and between 5,000 and 6,000 head of sheep, from Missouri.

Immense deposits of coal have recently been discovered in Illinois and Iowa.

The New York Journal of Commerce is said to be the largest daily paper in the world. It contains forty-eight columns of about one yard each.

The National Intelligencer states that in point of military display, the Presidential inauguration of 1853 was the most brilliant ever witnessed.

IRON TURNPIKE.—The Cincinnati Nonpareil says that the road leading from that city to Carthage is soon to be paved with iron plates, and the sides of the pike to be set with shade trees.

OH! THOSE PRINTERS!—The following we clip from a western exchange; we hope the editor will send for a proof-reader:

SEVEN ACCIDENTS.—On Monday afternoon the Penn Yan schoolhouse fell from a child, near Mr. Johnson's chair, and broke its arm and cracked the left step-pail.

At Edgartown, Mass., one day last week, ten men caught seven tons of fine perch, which sold for $600.

A bridge for a Railroad, wagon-road, &c., is projected across the St. Lawrence, at Quebec. It is about 2,400 feet across at the proposed point. A suspension bridge is the idea.

SUICIDE.—Mr. Edward Snyder committed suicide at Keokuk, on the fifth by cutting his throat with a razor. He was a native of Pennsylvania, but had, for a few years past made Dubuque his residence.

Mrs. Bloomer and other ladies who stand up for woman's rights, are lecturing on temperance in New York. The Tribune of the 8th inst., publishes their speeches, which are of no ordinary character, and show a degree of earnestness and clearness worthy the practiced speaker.

The amount collected at the election polls for President, in California, towards the National Washington Monument Fund, amounts to about $4,500—one-fourth as much as all the contributions of all the other States.

GRAIN.—At Maysville Ky., on the 8th inst., dealers were paying 70 cents per bushel for wheat, and 25a30 cents for barley.

A GALE.—At Beunos Ayres, Dec. 21st, a severe gale occurred which did great damage to the shipping. Ten vessels were blown ashore, one sunk, and six dismantled.

EUROPEAN NEWS.—The advices by the Baltic, which arrived at New York on Saturday last, are not of much importance. Among her passengers was Father Gavazzi. The New York Tribune says, "the news from England and France will not be found of great interest. Austria is carrying matters with a high hand in poor Italy. That power is said to have made great sacrifices in order to come to terms with Prussia, and it is further rumored that there is imminent danger of an outbreak between it and Turkey. All these little matters which form the shadows of events, seem to indicate the breaking of the general peace before a distant day."

NEW PICKETT
Tobacco Warehouse,

Haynes & Graham, Proprietors,
Corner of Eighth and Main Streets,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

THE above fire-proof Warehouse has been much enlarged and is doing fine business. Our receipts have been upwards of 10,000 hogsheads since the opening of our house—1st of October, 1851—and our sales have been very satisfactory.

Our mode of selling is as follows, viz: Every hogshead is put up and sold on its own merits, and after the sale it is with the owner to confirm or reject the same, at his pleasure.

One dollar per hogshead covers all charges to the owner, after its arrival at the warehouse; and he receives his money at the Warehouse Office, as soon as the bill can be made out. We are prepared to pay all charges on Tobacco consigned to us, and hold it subject to the instruction of the owner.

This Warehouse is now doing the most extensive business of any Tobacco Warehouse in Kentucky, and we pledge ourselves to attend strictly and promptly to all Tobacco entrusted to our care; and we refer to our past years' business, Merchants, Shippers, and Planters, generally.

Another Scientific Wonder.
GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!

DR. J. S. HOUGHTON'S
PEPSIN,
THE TRUE
DIGESTIVE FLUID,

OR GASTRIC JUICE!

Prepared from Rennet, or the Fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

"DIGEST." Such is the true meaning of the word PEPsin. It is the chief element, or great Digestive Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming a true Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is Nature's own Remedy for an unhealthy Stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It contains no Alcohol, Bitters, Acids, or Nauseous Drugs. It is extremely agreeable to the taste, and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without acute distress. Beware of Drugged Imitations. Pepsin is not a Drug.

Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water, will digest or dissolve five pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Scientific Evidence.

The Scientific Evidence upon which this Remedy is based is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.

Call on the Agent and get a Descriptive Circular, gratis, giving a large amount of scientific evidence, from Liebig's Animal Chemistry; Dr. Combe's Physiology of Digestion; Dr. Penon on Food and Diet; Dr. John W. Draper of New York University; Prof. Dunglison's Physiology; Prof. Silberman, of Yale College; Dr. Carpenter's Physiology, &c., together with reports of cures from all parts of the United States.

Pepsin in Fluid and Powder.

DR. HOUGHTON'S PEPsin is prepared in powder and in Fluid Form—and in prescription vials for the use of Physicians. The powder will be sent by mail free of P. stage, for one dollar sent to Houghton, Philadelphia.

"OBSERVE THIS!" Every bottle of the genuine Pepsin bears the written signature of J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., sole proprietor, Philadelphia Pa. Copy-right and Trade mark secured.

Sold by all Druggists and dealers in Medicine. Price ONE DOLLAR per bottle.

Miscellaneous.

The Chicago Journal notices a new Bank in that city, thus: "Fusileer's Bank," ones "letter B," and twos, "letter R."—"Bill holders responsible." The security is capital.

A lady, who was very modest and submissive before marriage, was observed by her friends to use her tongue pretty freely after. "There was a time when I almost imagined she had none." "Yes said her husband, with a sigh, but it's very long since."

A beautiful young lady having invited a plain elderly gentleman to dance with her, he was astonished at the condescension and believing that she was in love with him, in a very pressing manner desired to know why she had selected him from the rest of the company. "Because sir," replied the lady, "my husband commanded me to select such a partner as should not give him cause for jealousy."

"Mister," said a regular go-a-head, active and preserving Yankee, to a lazy drone that was lounging about, scarcely to be identified as being alive by his motion. "Did you ever see a snail?" "Yes," said the other, "I have." "You must have met it for by Jerusalem you never overtook one."

AN OLD PIONEER GONE.—Col. George Newcom died in Dayton on Friday last, aged 82 years. Col. Newcom was one of the earliest settlers in Dayton, and during the latter years of his life could boast a longer residence there than any person living.—Cin. Atlas.

The Home Journal says the disputed question: May a gentleman wear a frock coat at an evening party? seems to have been decided in the affirmative; and accordingly young gentlemen take particular pleasure in wearing that long obnoxious garment, with the additional innovation of black neckerchiefs. White waistcoats are generally discarded, and white kids yield precedence to gloves of color.

SUBMARINE TELEGRAPH.—The first submarine telegraph on the American continent has been put in operation under the arm of the sea which separates Prince Edward's Island from Nova Scotia. It is 140 miles long, five times the length of that from the French to the English coasts. This telegraph is a link in the line that is to be used, in connection with the ocean steamers, in bringing England and the United States within five days communication.

At the late destructive fire in Nassau street, one of Herring's Patent Safes, belonging to a jewelry firm, was taken from the ruins after an exposure of twelve hours to the fire, with the watches inside of the safe still in running order, and some of them in motion.

"Sal," cried a girl, looking out of the upper story of a small grocery, and addressing another girl who was trying to enter the front door, "we've all been to camp meeting and been converted; so when you want milk on Sundays, you'll have to come in the back way."

A little girl, ten years of age, seated beside her grandmother, aged eighty, looked up to her face and said:

"Grandma, at what age do ladies lose their relish for gallantry?"

The grandma replied:

"Indeed, my dear, I do not know; you must ask some one older than I am."

At a bear and bull fight which was to have come off at Mariposa, California, the Sunday previous to the election, an exciting circumstance took place. The bear got loose—the ring having slipped over his foot, when a rush from the place commenced, coupled with the simultaneous discharge of scores of revolvers. The bear fell dead and fortunately but one person was wounded in the melee.

A STRANGE DRINK.—An old toper bet that he could, when blindfolded, tell each of several kinds of liquors. When brandy, whiskey, gin, and other drinks were presented to him, he pronounced correctly what they were. At length a glass of pure water was given him; he tasted it, paused, tasted it again, and again considered and shook his head. At last he said: "Gentlemen I give it up, I am not used to that sort of liquor."

Small birds chase each other about in play, but perhaps the conduct of the crane and the trumpeter is the most extraordinary. The latter stands on one leg, in the most eccentric manner, and throws summer sets. The Americans call it the mad bird, on account of these singularities.—Water birds, such as ducks and geese, dive after each other, and clear the surface of the water with outstretched neck and flapping wings, throwing abundant spray around. Deer often engage in a sham battle, or trial of strength, by twisting their horns together and pushing for the mastery. This is their sport.

PRIZE FIGHTERS.—Two Irishmen named Cody and Adams, fought in the pugilistic style, at Riker's Island, New York, on Tuesday last, for $150. They fought fifteen minutes, when Cody was declared the winner.

Adams was seriously wounded. During Tuesday night the police arrested Adams and an accomplice named Lee, and after an examination, the former was sentenced to the penitentiary for six months, and the other held for further examination.

Blacksmiths, it is said, forge and still every day; but we think people speak too lightly of them.

SWEDISH SILVER COIN.—The New Orleans Picayune notices a Swedish silver coin of 1852, under King Oscar, a very large quantity of which has been recently brought into that city, and now floods the market. Their intrinsic value is six cents; they are of the size of a dime, somewhat thinner and much lighter. There is a possibility of these coins being passed off as dimes. The slightest examination detects the difference.

A little boy had his first pocket-knife, and for several days used it himself, and extended the privilege of the occasional use of his treasure to his little playmates. One evening he was kneeling at his mother's knee, saying his customary prayer, which he closed up in these words:—"And please God, give little Jimmy Baily a knife of his own, so he won't want to borrow mine all the time!"

How it Works.—The rascality perpetrated under the name of Spiritual Rappings, is not confined to merely taking money for the absurd exhibitions. Persons made crazy by the delusion, or insane before they believe in it, are used as objects of plunder by the knaves engaged in the business. Last week, we noticed the fact that an individual in Chicago had to be put under control to prevent his property passing out of his hands, through instrumentality of Spiritual Rapping bankers. The New York Advertiser says that on Friday last another victim of the delusion was taken to the Lunatic Asylum. He had been induced to give away thirteen thousand dollars to certain persons in obedience to Spiritual communications addressed to him by a deceased brother through one of the rapping media. If the spirits rap at this rate, no wonder that the delusion is kept up.

Marrying in Fun.

The oft repeated drama of marrying in sport to repent it in earnest, was re-enacted to an interested audience at Hawkinsville, (N. Y.) a few evenings since. At a social party the conversation turned upon matrimony, when a young gentleman said he would get married if any one would have him. A young lady present accepted his proposition in the same spirit of jesting, and after some preliminaries, they stood up and a justice united them in the usual manner. They separated when the party broke up, and the next day the lady was "brought to" by receiving from the justice a certificate of marriage, duly executed. The young gentleman, on learning how things were working, said in a manly way, though he had no thought of such a termination, yet if she was willing, he would abide by the bargain made in sport, and make her as good a husband as possible. At last accounts this was the position of matters.

THE CHANGE OF FASHION.—The ladies and gentlemen of the fashionable circles are anxiously discussing the changes in male and female costume introduced by a new French Court. The example of France is, of course, supreme in all questions of dress, and if the Parisian milliners should take a notion to patronize the Bloomer, the whole respectable world would be obliged to go into the shorts. There is, however, no danger of that just now, as the order of the day at Paris is, to revive the style of the time of Josephine—short waists for women breaches and knee buckles for men. It is a melancholly prospect for tall girls and spindle shanked youths; but we see no escape for them unless there should be a revolution in the French empire, before the new mode comes into general use. Gentlemen of calves rather pride themselves on the chances of a future display of elegant proportions.—N. Y. Post.

SINGULAR ANECDOTE.—There was a young woman left in the care of a house; her master and mistress being in the country. One night on her going to bed, when she was undressing herself, she looked in the glass and said, "How handsome I look in my night cap." When she arose in the morning she found the house robbed. She was taken into custody on suspicion of being concerned in the robbery, but tried and acquitted. Sometime afterwards as she was walking in company with another female, a man passing her said, "How handsome I look in my night cap." The expression so forcibly struck her mind that he was the man that robbed the house; she seized hold of him with the utmost intrepidity, and held him fast, assisted by her companion, till he was given into custody, at which time he confessed that when he was under the bed, he heard her use the expression previously to his robbing the house, and he suffered accordingly.

—The carpenters and brick layers in Cincinnati have struck for higher wages.

"I say Ike, why is main street like an eastern shoe?"

"I don't know; why am I den?"

"Kase it is alays filled with wood."

What Can be got for Five Dollars?

The undersigned have entered into an arrangement by which they agree to furnish the Knickerbocker Magazine, (monthly), the Home Journal, (weekly), and the Musical World and Times, (weekly), to new subscribers, at the very moderate price of five dollars a year for the three publications; all orders, enclosing that amount to Dyer & Willis, will be promptly attended to.

SAMUEL HUESTON,
Publisher of the Knickerbocker.
MORRIS & WILLIS,
Publishers of the Home Journal.
DYER & WILLIS,
Publishers of the Musical World and Times, 257 Broadway New York.

Grand Literary and Artistic Combination.

Arrangements have been made to furnish the KNICKERBOCKER MAGAZINE, the HOME JOURNAL, and the NEW YORK MUSICAL WORLD and TIMES, to new subscribers, for FIVE DOLLARS a year! This is cheap literature, with a vengeance. The Knickerbocker is $3 per annum; the Home Journal, $2; and the Musical World and Times, $3 making $8 a year at the usual rates. That three such works can be obtained for five dollars a year, is a fact truly worthy the Caloricage, which is just now being ushered in. Of the Knickerbocker Magazine, edited by LEWIS GAYLORD CLARK, it is unnecessary to speak. For twenty years it has been the most genial, humorous, and spicy "monthly" in the world; and the present volume will be better than any which preceded it. The Home Journal, edited by GEO. P. MORRIS and N. P. WILLIS, is well known as the best family newspaper in America; and the Musical World and Times, edited by RICHARD STORRS WILLIS, with LOWELL MASON, GEO. H. CURTIS, THOMAS HASTINGS, WM. P. BRADBURY, GEO. F. ROOT, and other musical writers contributing; and which gives among other things, over $25 worth of music and a full course of instruction in harmony annually, is the very best musical Journal ever published. These three publications will post a family up in regard to nearly everything worth knowing.—Art, Science, Literature, Music, Painting, Sculpture; Inventions, Discoveries; Wit, Humor, Fancy, Sentiments; the Newest Fashion and other attractions for Ladies, Choice New Music for the Sabbath, the Church and the Fireside; Reviews and Criticisms of Musical Works, Performers and Performances; in short, the very pick and cream of Novelty, Incident, History, Biography, Art, Literature and Science; including whatever can be given in periodicals to promote Healthy Amusement and Solid Instruction in the family, and help to make it Better, Wiser, and Happier, may be now obtained for five dollars. Address DYER & WILLIS, 257 Broadway.

Editors publishing the above three times and sending the papers containing it to Dyer & Willis, will receive the three works named, for one year.

COLUMBIAN AND GREAT WEST

PROGRAMME FOR 1851.

The continuation of our excellent series of Western Romances and Tales.

Mr. Bennett's Forrest Rose will be followed by a domestic story of Western life, founded on facts, entitled

ELLA WINSTON;
Or, the Adventures of an Orphan Girl.
By WALTER WHITMORE, ESQ.

Author of "Ainslie," the "Maid of the Inn," "Love and Retribution," and other popular tales.

Mr. Whitmore is an accomplished scholar, as well as a polished and energetic writer, and his "Ella Winston" is pronounced, by good judges, to be equal if not superior to the best Western Novel ever written.

Ella Winston will be succeeded by GERARD LINCOLN; by Miss A. S. St. Clair, author of "Senora Inez," &c.

It is enough for us to say that this production is worthy of Miss St. Clair's reputation. To be finished in four numbers.

We take pleasure in informing our readers that, at a very large expense, we have succeeded in effecting an engagement with MRS. E. D. N. SOUTHWORTH.

We are further much gratified in being able to announce that we are promised another historical novel by the incidents to be connected with the Revolutionary war. This will be ready the ensuing spring.

Each of the tales we have mentioned will be completed in a few weeks, and will not only be free from all that could offend a pure and cultivated taste, but will convey instructive and useful lessons.

L. A. HINE, ESQ.,
will immediately resume his valuable articles upon

THE RESOURCES OF THE WEST.

And we are assured by

that the pretensions of several prominent

WRITERS OF THE WEST

will soon be considered.

ELEVENTH YEAR

OF THE

LOUISVILLE

WEEKLY COURIER!

Acknowledged by general consent to be the Largest, Best and Cheapest Newspaper in the West.

In issuing the Eleventh Prospectus of the Louisville Weekly Courier, we have great pleasure in announcing that Mr. Wm. D. Gallagher, Esq., has purchased an interest in the establishment, and he will hereafter be associated with us in its management. Mr. Gallagher is widely known as an able political and literary writer and a gentleman of cultivated taste, and being thoroughly Western in his education, habits and associations, and conversant with our Railroad and Manufacturing interests, we flatter ourselves that he will add largely to the value and interest of the Courier, and render it still more acceptable to its thousands of readers in every section of the great Mississippi Valley.

The Louisville Weekly Courier, Edited

and Published by

W. D. GALLAGHER & W. N. HALDEMAN,

Is one of the largest, handsomest and best papers in the Union, and for the quantity and quality of matter it contains and the great care taken in its preparation, it is beyond all question

The Cheapest Paper in the West!

As a NEWSPAPER, its character is well established. Our readers of many years will bear witness that for enterprise, energy and reliability, it has borne the palm from all its contemporaries in Kentucky. It is almost invariably ahead in the publication of important news. It procures news of interest from all quarters, both by telegraph and private express, up to the very moment of publication, and entirely regardless of expense.

As a Commercial Paper, the Courier stands without a rival in Louisville. The gentleman who has had charge of the Commercial Department for the last six years, and whose entire time is devoted to it, has no superior, and his reports may always be regarded as accurate and reliable.

As a Literary Paper, we intend that it shall hereafter occupy much higher ground than heretofore. The Tales and Novellettes we publish will alone be worth ten times the price of the paper.

The Miscellaneous and Agricultural Departments will meet with all necessary attention. They will be both full and useful.

In Politics, the Courier will continue firmly Whig; but while advocating Whig measures and Whig principles, we do not intend to do so to the exclusion of our usual variety. Our readers may rest assured that they will not be surfeited with politics through our columns.

Early in January we will commence the publication of the Original Stories:

The Martyr of the Heart, by Miss MATTIE GRIFFITH; The Little Cripple and his Foster Mother, by ALICE STANLEY.

A lady of Kentucky, whose literary productions have been greatly admired.

By adopting the Cash System, and strictly adhering to it, we are enabled to still further reduce the price of our paper, and will hereafter furnish it, large as it is, at the following

Unprecedentedly Low Rates.

No paper is sent from this office without being paid for in advance; and every subscription is discontinued at the expiration of the time paid for, unless previously renewed.

Post masters and others are authorized to act as agents in obtaining subscribers in Clubs or otherwise, and remitting funds. All orders should be addressed post paid to

STRADER'S HOTEL.

FORMERLY THE PEARL STREET HOUSE,

Pearl street, between Main and Market,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

By D. W. Strader.

THIS old established and well known hotel has been entirely refitted and is now opened for the accommodation of the public. It is located in the center of the business part of the city, being mid-way between the Mail and general Packet Landing and the Post Office.

No pains or expense will be spared in order to render the guests of the house comfortable and at ease, and therefore a share of public patronage is respectfully solicited.

FARMER'S GUIDE.

LEONARD SCOTT & CO.,

No. 54 Gold street, New York,

CONTINUE to publish the four leading British Quarterly Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine; in addition to which they have recently commenced the publication of a valuable Agricultural work, called the

"FARMER'S GUIDE TO SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE," By HENRY STEPHENS, F. R. S., of Edinburgh, author of the "Book of the Farm," &c., &c.; assisted by JOHN P. NORTON, M. A., New Haven, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, &c., &c.

This highly valuable work will comprise two large royal octavo volumes, containing over 1400 pages, with 18 or 20 splendid steel engravings, and more than 600 engravings on wood, in the highest style of the art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best farmers, the best methods of plowing, planting, haying, harvesting, &c., &c., the various domestic animals in their highest perfection; in short the pictorial feature of the book is unique, and will render it of incalculable value to the student of Agriculture.</
